CLAIMS SCENARIO

A medical group experienced a ransomware attack. The group retained a breach coach and IT forensics firm to investigate the incident. During the investigation, the forensics team discovered a prior breach of the group's computer system that began more than two years earlier and appeared to be ongoing. The hacker had created multiple fraudulent administrative user accounts to access records. Breach notification was provided to the group's entire patient population (over 180,000 former and current patients).

The group also reported the matter to federal and state government agencies and media outlets.

The group's cyber insurance covered the breach notification costs, IT forensic expenses, and credit monitoring costs, which amounted to over $350,000.

Additionally, the group's defense costs to respond to the OCR and state Attorney General investigations were covered under the Privacy Regulatory Defense and Penalties insuring agreement, up to the remaining $1,000,000 limit.

e-MD®, the cyber liability insurance solution for healthcare providers, offers a comprehensive suite of data security and privacy insurance solutions that are tailored for the unique needs of the healthcare industry.

e-MD® Third Party coverage includes:
